

Nature in Harrow from Eliza Brightwen to the Present

Exhibition at Headstone Manor and Museum

July 20th – September 26th (not open on Mondays)

To mark the 50th Anniversary of the Harrow Natural History Society (HNHS), we are pleased to announce this co-curated exhibition to celebrate Nature in Harrow. The story starts in the 19th Century with Eliza Brightwen, Harrow's most notable naturalist and a bestselling author. Using collections from the Museum and HNHS, the exhibition showcases the people and places in Harrow who have contributed to preserving Harrow's natural spaces. This will be a rare opportunity to see original objects from Eliza's personal collection and the Museum's Natural History Collection.
